BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1932.

FORTY-FIRST YEAR, No. 27

MANY IMPROVEMENTS MARK PROGRESS OF CITY OF BAY SAINT LOUIS

New Street Signs to Be Placed on Curb Stone Corners—
Reduction In Water Rates—Water Pipes Receive Treatment—New Garbage Collection Service—Tax
Collection Dead Line August 1.

Visitors to Bay St. Louis frequently comment with favor on the cleanliness of the streets and sidewalks and it is no wonder for the city is ever watchful that the paved streets are swept and kept free from any and all litter. Other streets receive the same attention and the result is a city of unusual cleanliness, which, while pleasing the eye and adds to one's general satisfaction is a matter of sanitation.

The city commissioners guard the condition of the streets most religiously and City Street Commissioner August Taconi with his force of workmen are ever on the job.

STREETS TO BE PAINTED WITH NEW SIGNS.

The Board of City Commissioners have awarded a contract to Joseph Gilbert, of Bay St. Louis, to paint the name of the streets on the edge of the sidewalk curb corners at a price of 15 cents per sign, and already the work of painting the white background, upon which the black lettering will appear, has been accomplished.

It was pointed out by Mayor Traub and Commissioners Ladner and Egloff that many of the signs formerly placed about the city have not held out as well as was expected and where the enameled signs have been placed on corner posts these decay from time to time and have to be replaced at no small expense. It was further pointed out that the names of streets painted on the sidewalk curb is not only more lasting but that it is easier for the automobile driver, the one who is more generally looking to locate addresses, can find and discern more readily.

With this work completed, said Mayor Traub, the city streets will be pretty well and permanently labeled. Since Bay St. Louis is a place where strangers and other visitors throng all the year round it is more fitting that this work be carried out. Former signs were purchased from away. The new signs are painted at home and by resident talent and labor.

REDUCTION OF WATER RATE IS NOTED.

While the dollar reduction in the cost of waterworks pay for the year takes effect for the new year payment, it might seem to some few as a small reduction, but when one considers one dollar on each subscriber to water in the aggregate means a considerable sum of money less for the city.

Besides, the fact that the city has lost many of its subscribers during the past year due to the existence of many vacant houses and the depression, it will readily be seen that by the dollar cut and loss of a hundred or two subscribers the city is taking a considerable cut in its waterworks revenues, yet it finds the way where it can carry on and continue giving the same fine service as heretofore.

WATERWORKS PIPES ARE DRAINED AND TREATED.

It is noted that the city has had all water plugs for fire purposes over the city opened and drained of all sediment and caps cleaned and removed, in order the caps may be easier and quickly, connected in event of emergency.

In addition to this there are several "dead end" main pipes where the water remains and has no circulation; where the water in a sense stagnates and is not as fresh and possibly as pure as the other. These "dead ends" too, have been drained and cleaned, hence, the "circulatory" system of the waterworks is again clean and as health-guaranteed as ever. Even these things have to be looked after and the commissioners find this one of the many tasks and details that have to be attended to from time to time.

A NEW SERVICE FOR RESTAURANTS? ETC.

It is planned at present by the board of city commissioners, and will be so ordered at the forthcoming July meeting of the board, that instead of one collection of garbage per week there will be two, the extra collection taking place on Wednesday. This special collection, however, will be for restaurants, hotels, boarding houses and such places where garbage accumulates quickly and in larger lots. The Saturday pick-up will remain as at present.

This service, too, it was pointed out, will help the sanitary condition of the city in better shape, especially during the hot months.

TAXES ARE DUE IN LAST INSTALLMENT AUGUST 1.

Tax-Collector Ferdinand Egloff is writing receipts for last in installments of taxes for the year, the dead line August 1. After that date, Mr. Egloff calls attention to the law, there will be an added damage and property will be advertised in the public press for sale during the first week in September. While a total of uncollected amount of taxes of date has not been made, there still remain approximately from $8,000 to $10,000 to be paid. The law that made tax-paying possible on the installment plan has been of much convenience to the public and it is expected that practically the bulk will be paid before the fateful dead line date.

PEACE OF CITY IS BEST THAN AT ANY TIME.

In writing of the public cleanliness of the city, one is also impressed of the fact that the peace of the city has never been better. There are practically no law violations and there is a marked absence of violence and other elements that stand for disturbance. It is noted that the public have full respect for the law. Chief A. E. Saucier says there is little or no cause for arrests. Only occasionally there might be some disturbance or misunderstanding in certain colored quarters, and even that is very little. There is no pilfering, no infraction of the various city ordinances and in general Bay St. Louis, while by no means the quietest, is the most peaceful city in the world.

More about your city soon.

—Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Buckley had as their house guests Sunday and for the week-end the Doctor's brother, Mr. B. B. Buckley and wife from Luling, Miss., and Mrs. D. B. Kennedy, formerly of Poplarville, Miss., but now of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Mrs. C. Spotswood, of Poplarville. Needless to say how much the party enjoyed their stay at this hospitable home and on the Gulf Coast.

COUNTY-WIDE HEALTH ROUND-UP OF CHILDREN OF PRE-SCHOOL AGE

Two Hundred and Twenty-Two Examined by Medical Experts—Thirty of Number Found Perfect—Examinations Under Auspices Parent-Teachers Association

Two hundred and twenty-two children of pre-school age were examined at the Central School building, Bay St. Louis last week-end on a county-wide health round-up, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. Of this number various deficiencies were found and in several cases were found where surgical correction and other immediate treatment were found necessary. As a result already a hospitalization attention is given to some and more to follow. Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer stated.

From week to week, as necessary, such cases as needing attention and found imperative will be given such treatment as necessary.

Of the vast number examined it was found that thirty were free from any deficiency, children receiving the one hundred per cent mark.

Dr. Charles J. Bloom of New Orleans, famous child specialist assisted, as well as county health officers from Pearl River and Jackson counties, and Bay St. Louis physicians. In fact a staff of physicians, noted for their experience and ability, gave their service gratis to the children of Hancock county that applied and received the very best service possible that even money could buy.

It was a great work and one that will serve the children in future years, inevitable and dire result, by eliminating causes in early stages, said Dr. Shipp and who expressed satisfaction at the number of children examined and the fine results that will follow. The safeguarding of the children and public health is the highest duty to be paid humanity and in this matter Hancock county and Bay St. Louis are best equipped.

Mrs. John Baker of Logtown, received treatment at Martin's Sanitarium at Picayune for injuries suffered Sunday night when she was thrown from the automobile she was driving when it was hit head-on by an automobile said to have been driven by R. U. Wilson of New Orleans. Mrs. Baker received two severe scalp wounds, a badly bruised collarbone and hip and minor bruises. Occupants of the Wilson car were uninjured.

The accident occurred on the Old Spanish Trail about 300 yards south of the "Y" Junction. Mr. and Mrs. Baker were returning from Picayune to their home in Logtown after attending services at the Methodist church. The Wilson party was en route to New Orleans from the Gulf coast.

REVOLUTION.

THE oft-heard remark that present economic and political conditions were such that ultimately a revolution would be inevitable has always carried with it much apprehension that such would really come. The hope was always felt, however, that such a day as that of a revolution would be spared this country.

But that as it may, such a revolution has occurred. The people have revolted and nothing could stem the tide.

The affirmative vote at Chicago Wednesday on the prohibition repeal plank and that immediate modification of the Volstead act take place was such a sudden and radical revision of country-wide sentiment, and established opinion as well, that it was nothing less but a REVOLUTION—a revolt, a revoke, a repudiation of much of the sentiment that was formerly genuine, much of it that was pent in and restrained.

It has been said that times change and that people, too, must change. This has been exemplified.

Prohibition was an emergency measure, drafted and adopted in the absence of many from the country, a something that was "put over" the boys while away fighting for their country, as has been expressed.

As a moral, if not an economic question and measure, it has been given a test of long years. It has been found wanting in application. It has failed because of its fallaciousness even though to be right in principle. It has abridged the personal liberties of men and women. It has caused in many instances the wheels of industry to cease in operation and millions of people hitherto employed are, like Othello, their occupation gone.

It has created the illegal manufacturer and unlicensed retailer. It has stifled men's conscience and made hypocrites of many who otherwise would have remained as they were prior to prohibition.

Every effort to repeal or to modify has failed. The courts have repeatedly certified to the legality of the act, that it was free from flaw and attack and the majority applauded.

But that majority has dwindled to the minority. By a vote of four to one in unmistakable numbers the repeal plank of the Democratic platform was adopted. Mississippi and Georgia, however, the only two States in the Union, in unbroken dissent.

With Roosevelt, probably as the standard bearer, and a platform that carries such plank without reservation or smoke screen or camouflage as adopted, the Democratic party will unquestionably win.

Yes, dear reader, the revolution has occurred. Not the kind we feared, but one that is intelligent and interpretative and one that will carry to the American people in November perhaps the greatest issue directly affecting the people for their vote.

We have no fear in the vote of the majority. We are ever ready to abide by their action. It is good, old-fashioned defeat of the people and the Democratic party, to let the majority rule.

CLERMONT PIER IS FINISHED

Formal Opening and Celebration To Take Place This Saturday Night With Dance

Many people will assemble on Saturday evening of this week to visit and to attend the formal opening of Clermont Harbor's new 900-foot pier and dance pavilion, which has fully been completed.

This structure has a dance floor at the end of the pier where a spacious pavilion has been constructed and illuminated with electric lights, as well as the long pier carries a string of lights, located at different intervals. This result of civic thought and enterprise is the result of a number of residents and property holders at Clermont who foresaw the necessity of such structure if Clermont was to be visited by visitors and transient residents and enjoy the patronage and support of such patronage.

It is not only a credit to their wide-awake spirit but will serve as means of proving their wisdom and building to further purpose and wider usage Clermont Harbor as an ideal summer resort, with its close proximity to New Orleans, and located as it is on the shores of the Gulf waters.

Joseph A. Chalona, C. F. Jenkins and others equally as prominent have been active in the cause of this structure. Messrs. Garcia & Carr, well-known contractors and builders, were constructors and are justly proud of their work. The owners express satisfaction and state Messrs. Garcia & Carr treated them in the fullest measure of satisfaction.

This pier and pavilion will be dedicated to the free use of the public. It is opened to all comers and all the year around, either for bathing, fishing or general recreation. It will prove a great asset to Clermont.

SAFETY IN SWIMMING.

THE Swimming season is in full swing and every day the newspapers carry the stories of those who die because they fail to observe the ordinary rules of safety.

Realizing this, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has issued some advice to guide all swimmers and cautions the so-called "good swimmers" who furnish each year a large number of the fatalities. The Echo has no hesitation in passing along the rules. Maybe, their publication will remind swimmers to save their own lives.

Dr. E. H. Lines, chief medical director, says that sixty per cent of the drownings take place between May and August and that nearly half of them are men and boys under 25 years of age. Directing his words to the good swimmers, he says:

"Contrary to popular belief, a large percentage of drowning cases occur among persons who are considered good swimmers. The reason for this is that these persons, self-confident and at home in the water, take foolhardy chances, overestimate their strength and disregard ordinary rules of common sense and safety."

The following safety rules were outlined by Dr. Lines: Do not swim alone at night.

Never swim across a lake or river, or from headland to island, or in unknown or dangerous waters unless accompanied by a boat and a strong, level-headed companion trained in life saving.

At the first opportunity learn how to rescue drowning persons without unduly endangering your own life and learn how to administer artificial respiration.

Do not attempt to swim to a drowning person's rescue in rough or deep water unless no other help is at hand and you are confident you are capable of effecting a rescue. If possible, before starting call to someone to get a rope or a boat.

Don't swim for at least two hours after eating, and never beyond your depth in very cold water.

Never drink cold beverages immediately before swimming.

Skylarking in boats is dangerous.

Don't duck or "tease" your friends who are not as good swimmers as yourself.

Never swim in unknown, shallow or rocky water."

NO CIVIL SERVICE JOBS OPEN.

DENONCING a new racket designed to squeeze a few dollars from the vanishing funds of the jobless, the U. S. Civil Service Commission warns against schools selling courses of "coaching" for civil service examinations.

The Commission says these schools are accepting money under false pretenses because in most cases where vacancies occur, there is always a long list of eligible candidates for the job. "Money paid for Civil Service courses at this time might just as well be thrown to the four winds," says the Commission's warning.

WOULDN'T PLAY WICKED PART.

WORD from Hollywood, the screen capital of the country, tells us that Zita Johann, foreign star, is going home because she is unwilling to play the part of a wicked woman. She packed her suitcases and said, "Good-bye."

Movie producers will flare up temperamentally against what they call Miss Johann's outburst of temperament but the average picture fan, after witnessing scores of rotten sex dramas, will regret to see this young woman penalized for what they consider a splendid defiance. Here's luck to the lady!

SCHMELING'S TITLE.

THE Sharkey-Schmeling fight will be long discussed, not only in this country, but in Europe.

Evidently, the American took the German's crown by a decision that is dubbed "doubtful" by his own countrymen. Certainly, if radio broadcasting is any indication of what happened in the ring, Herr Schmeling gave an adequate defense of his title, and should have had the decision.

A dependable newspaper has a prestige value that is worth money to any advertiser.

Will Rogers, the inimitable, dubs Hooey Long at the Democratic convention as the "Louisiana porcupine." Now what did the porcupine do Rogers?

Of the number of prospective nominees by the Democratic convention any of the number will beat Hoover in November and besides make a good president. There is plenty of good timber to select from.

Gulfport business houses closed half day Wednesday to impress on the minds of the general public as a whole the necessity of opening a bank for that city, there being none at that place since the day after Thanksgiving. All of which should serve to others to better appreciate banking facilities in such towns where banks already exist.

The "Youngberry Festival" held in Gulfport on June 2-3-4 was a decided success and the demand created for this fruit far exceeded the supply. The festival was conducted by the Mississippi Youngberry Growers Association and was in charge of Dr. S. M. Major, youngberry specialist who recently moved to the Gulf Coast from Kansas City. During the exhibit free samples of chilled youngberry juice were served to all visitors. Fresh crates of berries were kept for sale and hundreds of crates were sold. Recipes were given out and much interest was manifested.

DEMOCRATS IN CONVENTION

THE eyes of the nation are turned to Chicago this week where the Democratic nominating convention is in session and where assembled are some of the brightest minds and most capable men and women in the country.

It is a great event, significant to a degree more than in the ordinary sense. With the country and its people going through a period of depression that knows no parallel, men and women in appalling numbers without employment, and with the Republican party having failed to give such relief and remedy as had been hoped, then one must necessarily look for the such possible means of rescue as might be given by the opposite political party.

The country looks to the Democratic party to bring about that change that must come if we are going to be saved from the threatening dire elements to follow from the present condition.

At this writing no one knows to whom the nomination will be accorded, whether it will be Roosevelt, Smith, Garner, Ritchie et al. But safe to say, there is plenty of material available, and regardless of who is nominated, the next President will be from the Democratic party. It requires no power of a seer to see this. It seems, in view of things, to be inevitable. If the Republican party has not been equalled to the situation, if its leader and others have failed, if they have been tried and found wanting as they have, then if nothing else but as a last resort, voters this fall will vote for the Democratic nominee.

The Echo has every faith in the Democratic party; its leaders and its nominee; every assurance of Democratic success and every hope in such election that the country will be safe for the people.

We fought to make the country safe for Democracy, as we termed it. The issue now, let us fight to make this country safe for every man, woman and child; that he and she will be accorded that livelihood and success that belongs by every right to them.

Secretary of State, Walker Wood, says, "It appears from the increase in organization of new firms and the number of foreign companies entering the State that there is a definite trend toward better times." Domestic charters filed up to May 25th show capitalization of $230,300, all represented by new firms starting within the State with stock ranges between $5,000 and $15,000.

CLERMONT HARBOR'S PUBLIC PIER.

RESIDENTS of Clermont Harbor and others interested are to be congratulated on the successful realization of a cherished plan which stamps them as progressive and far-seeing.

This Saturday night they will celebrate the completion of a 900-foot pier and pavilion, the use of which will be dedicated to the public, without admission or any other fee. This project accomplished represents a value of $6,000, it was stated to the Echo, but the real value to Clermont Harbor and its people cannot be overestimated.

The pier and pavilion will fill a long-felt want, just as Bay St. Louis keenly feels the need of and other resort towns along the Gulf Coast lacking such enterprise.

However, let us pause, and see what other towns are in such need besides Bay St. Louis.

Surely not Pass Christian. That municipality issued bonds and built a fine structure of the kind, dedicated to the public. The town of Long Beach has its own municipal pier. Gulfport its own pavilion and bathing pier. Biloxi and by no means least but last, the town of Pascagoula, perhaps the finest of all. All of these are municipally-owned and the visiting public, as well as the home folks, do not feel the lack of such public improvement as we. Any watering resort elsewhere has such facilities in order to attract and accommodate the visiting public.

Clermont Harbor will have a crowd tonight, to pay tribute to those responsible for this enterprise.

The Echo has been particularly authorized to say that the Bay-St. Louis public is especially invited to participate in the dance and general pleasure of Saturday night's event. A small fee will be charged for this occasion to keep the attendance within bounds and in order to have those present who really wish to be part of the celebration.

May Bay St. Louis soon follow Clermont Harbor's splendid example of such enterprise and public spirit, as we know this city will so do in time.

The Mississippi Seafood Commission has completed the planting of 78,797 barrels of oyster shells on the state reefs. Twenty-five boats were used in the planting. The pack of oysters in the State this season was about 5,000,000 barrels, of which number 3,000,000 were Mississippi oysters. The commission now has among its responsibilities the care of all salt water fish, crabs and shrimp, in addition to oysters.

CONDITIONS DEMAND RELIEF.

CONDITIONS in the United States seem to be worst instead of better, so far as the need for relief of the unemployed is concerned.

Testimony to this effect is ample and unmistakable. In the face of the suffering that confronts many people there is no time to debate governmental theories. Immediate help is what is required, regardless of where the aid comes from or how it is obtained.

Having said so much, let us say more along another line, which ought not be misunderstood. The great cry for relief, undoubtedly real, in most cases is augmented by the shrill begging of a small minority that has made practically no effort to take care of itself. Even in the years of prosperity we have had citizens too lazy to work; too improvident to save and too indolent to give the labor that warrants success.

Let's not mix the honest, hard-working folk with this latter type of social parasite. Millions of deserving Americans are without work through no fault of their own. Millions of American children face want and suffering, not because of lazy parents, but because of economic catastrophe that has struck deserving as well as underserving.

An Invitation To Mr. Rowlands And The Lily-White Faction Of The Republican Party.

THE Credentials Committee of the Republican Party at the Chicago Convention emphatically showed by a vote of 35 to 5 that a White Republican party was not wanted in Mississippi.

Perry W. Howard and Dr. S. D. Redmond, negroes of Jackson, were applauded when they vilified the leaders of the Lily-White faction from this state.

Mr. Lamont P. Rowlands, who has endeavored to form a Republican organization in Mississippi, and who has handled G. O. P. patronage in this state for the past four years under the Hoover regime, was turned down in favor of the Howard-Redmond faction, and his delegation left wandering around like little orphan Annie, with no place to go.

While our racial sympathies are with the Lily-Whites, who as one speaker said at the Convention, are trying to build up a Republican party in Mississippi that can be pointed to with pride, and not an organization that produces "a stupid scent in the nostrils of decency," we have a hard struggle with ourselves not to say "I told you so."

The Rowlands faction have tried to keep up their affiliations with the party of their choice and avoid being contaminated with the black and tan members of the same party, but their overwhelming defeat at the Chicago convention shows that it cannot be done.

We believe that the defeat of the Rowlands group was one of the best things that could have happened for Mississippi Democracy. While Republicanism in Mississippi, should it ever reach the approximate strength of Democracy, would be a menace to the welfare of the state, as it would put the balance of power into the hands of the negroes of the state and throw civilization back into the carpet-bag era, nullifying the progress made in the past sixty-five years.

The national party leaders are making a play for the negro vote in the states north of the Mason and Dixon line, and their main hope is a show of patronage to the colored faction in the South.

They want their "pie distributors" to be men who are easily manipulated, and who will do their bidding without question.

Mr. Rowlands and his group are not men of this calibre. We believe that they have ideals that are far above the political swill-barrel that Republican politics degenerate into the South under negro patronage dispensers.

We know Mr. Rowlands personally, and like him—admire him—but we don't like his politics.

There are two courses left to Mr. Rowlands and his supporters—one is to forget their Anglo-Saxon heritage and accept the hemlock cup handed them at the convention with what grace they may.

The other alternative is to leave the Republican party and join the ranks of the Democrats.

We believe they will be welcome and hasten to extend them a cordial invitation to make peace with the leaders of the Democratic party in Mississippi and come into the fold.—Brookhaven Leader.

BAY-PANTHERS PROTEST GAME WITH PASS CHRISTIAN

The Bay St. Louis Panthers who played the Pass Christian Pirates at St. Stanislaus College Park Sunday protested the game in which three Pass players played without stockings which is against the rule in the Coast League and George Vaughan hit a ball into deep center field missing second base made a home run and the short stop of the Bay called the base umpire's attention to it and he said he did not see it.

Next Sunday Bay St. Louis goes to play Gulfport at Gulfport and Monday July 4th the Panthers take a long trip equaling 128 miles to Brookhaven, Miss. A total of 10 players and 6 others will make the trip. The following is expected to make the trip: Bob and Ernest Strong, Jim and Cotton Collier, J. V. and Wallace Bontemps, Edward Blaize, D. B. (Pike) Telhiard, Jr., and an old timer Bay St. Louis boy Charles (Kaiser) Strong. Fred Fayard, Cedric Heitzman Old Man Pike Telhiard, Mrs. Telhiard, Mrs. J. Collier and Mrs. E. Strong.

In signing up Charles (Kaiser) Strong, Bay St. Louis signs up a player who played when Marchmont Schwartz, now All-American Half Back football star of Notre Dame played on the Lime Cola's who Charley Saucier managed about five years ago.

The Judge's Oversight.

At a singing competition, the local baritone sang "The Village Blacksmith" and was confident of being placed first. On the result being declared he was disappointed to find he was second and asked for an explanation.

The adjudicator informed him that he had made a mistake in his lines. "Instead of singing 'Each morning sees some task begun, each evening sees it close,' you sang, 'Each evening sees some task begun, each morning sees it close.'"

"That was right enough," protested the singer. "Don't you know he was on the night shift?"—Montreal Star.

THE ART OF SINGING.

SONG is God's free gift to all—Today everyone recognizes the educational and recreational advantages of music. The time is past, when music was considered only an earmark of culture, a luxury for the privileged few. It has rightly become a part of education and even though all of us are not gifted with unusual vocal ability, and cannot hope to become famous, at least, we should possess some real knowledge, understanding and appreciation of music.

Teachers are "necessary—theory alone is of no value whatever. As Lilli Lehmann, the great singer said, "One is never done with learning," and that is especially true of singers. He who stands still goes backward. One must continually strive for progress. In forming two classes, my object is to place music within the reach of all and aid song development in an interesting and educational way at a minimum cost.

Child and adult should strive for good diction. How rarely does one hear a soft musical speaking voice! It is of greatest importance to learn the correct principles for the use of the speaking as well as the singing voice. Correct breathing is essential to health, and is the keynote of good singing.

"Today it is the fashion for parents to provide their child with opportunities for creative activity, for self-expression, in music, art, and so forth. Let the children be given a chance to grow the tree of success, which is always rooted in knowledge, judgment and persistence," says Dr. M. E. Blatz, Director of St. George's School for Child Study in Toronto.

In the study of song one is in duty bound to have learned something worth while—for "singing is that art whose sole task properly is to ennoble the taste of mankind and to bestow happiness; to raise it above the nuisances of this workaday world and withdraw it from those miseries, uplifting the spirit and benefiting mind and body.

Many are the fruits reaped by the earnest student. Singing develops poise, improves posture and diction. The very joy of singing seems to iron out the wrinkles in your soul.

PROHIBITION NOT THE ONLY ISSUE.

THE democratic and republican parties along with the rank and file of the citizenship of the country, are up in arms over the prohibition controversy.

The wets, the dries, the moistists and the neutrals are having their say in no uncertain terms and it is a foregone conclusion that the prohibition question will play a very important part in the coming presidential election.

Granting the fact that the liquor problem is of paramount importance, surely the leaders of both parties must realize that there are other problems confronting the country at this time that also should be given much thought and consideration.

What of unemployment and relief for the people of the country? The individual, as we see it, is not given the consideration and help that he rightfully deserves.

Whether or not prohibition is repealed, enforced, modified or what not—what the hundreds of thousands of unemployed citizens of this country need first and foremost is governmental legislation that will speed the wheels of industry and commerce and give them a chance to earn a decent living.

There may be more to the prohibition hullabaloo than meets the naked eye at first glance. Granting the fact that it is an obvious problem sadly in need of attention—the party leaders may hope to use the wet-dry issue as a smoke screen to hide the fact that there is nothing being done to aid the people.

Prosperity, as we came to know it in 1929 and backward, is still around that corner we've heard so much about—

And absolute dryness or absolute wetness will not solve that problem.—Meridian Star.

THAT PROHIBITION PLANK.

Asked the Democratic Donkey Of his Elephantine Foe, "Sir, your plank on prohibition, What's its meaning, if you know?"

Said the Elephant Serenely: "Anybody but an Ass Knows its meaning shifts completely AS from state to state, I pass.

"Anybody but a Donkey Knoweth also, Sir, remember, It's a bid for dumb-bell voters And they'll tumble, next November."

—DAVID E. GUYTON, Blue Mountain, Miss.

WETS AT CHICAGO
STAGE OUTSTANDING
DEMONSTRATIONSenator Barkley's Speech
Stirs First Noisy Demonstration By Repeal
Remarks

Chicago, June 28.—An unscheduled demonstration for repeal of prohibition, stirred up the humdrum routine of the Democratic national convention's opening session with its first real, noisy show.

Late in the afternoon Monday, after two hours of keynoting by Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the temporary chairman, the wetter delegates responded suddenly to his declaration for submitting the prohibition question all over again.

Even eye witnesses disagreed about who started it, Maine or New Jersey, but there were rumors of emissaries from the platform weaving down to pass the word as Senator Barkley neared the bit in his speech that touched things off. Who sent them was not of record. The name of Chairman John J. Raskob, probably because of his often-voiced and vigorous repeal sentiments, was much mentioned.

Anyway, it started. And before anybody realized it the state standards were off on the time-tried old busy of parading the aisles. All but six, Virginia, Alabama, Kansas, North Carolina, Nebraska and Oklahoma, joined in. The fan in the organ loft saw a chance to escape from the prudently favored tunes he had theretofore favored, in deference to candidates rivalries and the war songs fol-lowers of each have made their own. The mighty voice of his instrument seemed to award Maine the honor post in the show, for it roared into the Maine State Song to give rhythm to the repeal parade. Then it was "How Dry I Am" and "The Gang's All Here" and many another old favorite of that order.

Four Young Children
Found Camping In Open,
Taken To Baptist Home

Jackson, Miss., June 28.—Sleeping in the woods at night, on improvised beds of straw and leaves, with excursions to homes of neighbors in case of rain and for food, was the experience of four children, ranging in ages from 6 to 13, received at the Baptist Home for Children today, according to Supt. O. C. Miller.

The father of the children committed suicide about two years ago, the mother died about a year ago, and since the mother's death the children have not had a home, but had lived as best they could in the hills near New Albany. The other known living relative, a grandmother, is an inmate in the county home of Union county. The oldest child had attended a part of one session, several years ago. The children were glad to be in the Baptist Orphanage and stated that "it's a nice place to live, 'cause we've got a real bed to sleep on, and can eat when we get hungry."

The children are Wilson, Leon, W. T. and John R. Rogers.

Announce Date For Annual Church Fair on Waveland Beach

Ladies in charge are organizing for the annual fair to be given on Waveland beach, benefit St. Claire's church. The event is always one of general interest and this year is going to prove an exception in a manner that greater results are anticipated.

The fair will be a two-day affair. Dates selected are Saturday and Sunday nights, August 6 and 7. Mrs. Edw. C. Carrere is active in the cause and her associates are equally as interested and in all there is every indication that the Waveland fair this year is going to be the biggest yet.

Quite the Opposite.

Jones was recently sent by his employer to collect from Smith, who is notorious for his slackness in making payments. After several vain attempts to obtain a settlement, Jones remarked: "Well, at least let me know on what date I may expect payment."

"Do you take me for a prophet?" said Smith.
"No," responded the collector, "Up to the present my firm has always regarded you as a loss."—Montreal Star.

SENATOR W. BARKLEY, DEMOCRATIC KEYNOTE SPEAKER ON DRY LAW

Must Either Respect and Enforce Present Law If It Is To Stand, However, Asks For A Party Declaration—
Favors Submission to People of States.

Senator Alben W. Barkley, from Kentucky, keynote speaker of the Democratic convention at Chicago Monday, delivered an address that challenges the admiration of all for its clearness, forcefulness and thought. It carried no subterfuge, no camouflage, but is an open and fearless address, one that gains the confidence of the public.

Concerning the 18th Amendment Barkley said: "So long as it is a part of the constitution, 'no citizen of the republic has a legal or moral right to violate it,' and added:

"Whatever may be the divergent views of men and women on the merits or demerits of the 18th Amendment as a national policy, it is inconceivable that this or any other part of the constitution of the United States should apply to only a part and not the whole of the American nation. That great instrument declares that 'this constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof shall be the supreme law of the land.' But it cannot be the supreme law of the land if it can be abrogated by the people of a part of the land while remaining in force over the rest of them. Such a conception destroys the very nature and structure of the constitution for if it can be made thus to qualify one of its provisions it may be made to qualify all of them. This would be the end of the constitution itself.

On Dry Law

"Under these circumstances this convention owes it to the people of the nation to make its declaration upon this subject clear, understandable and unequivocal. There is no reason why the people should be deceived or deluded. There is no reason why a political declaration should look in every direction and see nothing.

"In order, therefore, to obtain the present will of the American people on this subject of universal controversy, this convention should in the platform here to be adopted recommend the passage by Congress of a resolution repealing the 18th Amendment and its submission to the people of the states through conventions whose delegates shall be chosen upon this issue alone.

"If the people are to pass again upon this question, let them pass upon it in such bald, naked and unequivocal terms as to make their decision intelligent and certain.

"If their verdict shall be in favor of retaining the 18th Amendment in the constitution, let every true citizen of the nation accept the decision and abide by it in letter and in spirit.

"If the verdict shall be for the repeal of the amendment then let every branch of the national government exercise all the powers they possess to protect the states in the observance and enforcement of the laws which they shall enact to control, regulate or prohibit the traffic in intoxicating liquors."

HANCOCK CO. AGENT HAS EXPERIENCE AND SUCCESSFUL POSITIONS

Dist. Agent Ruff, For South Mississippi, Lauds New Appointee and Board Of Supervisors.

Jackson, Miss., June 24, 1932.—R. H. Bryson, former extension worker, and for the past twelve years Agricultural and Industrial agent for the Mississippi Central Railroad with headquarters at Hattiesburg has been appointed county agent of Hancock County, effective July 1st. Edd Ruff, district agent for South Mississippi, announced here today.

Mr. Ruff stated that Mr. Bryson had had a most successful career in agricultural work and that he is highly fitted by both training and experience for his new post. He is especially well versed in the problems of farming in the Gulf Coast section, having owned and operated his own farm in Harrison County for eight years, where he specialized in the production and marketing of early vegetables and fruits as well as carrying on general farming.

Mr. Bryson served as agricultural agent for the G. & S. I. Railroad from 1913-1919. He was appointed county agent in Covington county in March 1919 and was promoted to extension marketing specialist in October of the same year. As extension marketing agent Mr. Bryson worked principally in South Mississippi counties. As Agricultural and Industrial agent for the Mississippi Central Railroad Mr. Bryson has rendered effective service to large numbers in South Mississippi during the past twelve years.

Mr. Ruff was warm in his commendation of the members of the Board of Supervisors and Mr. A. G. Favre, chairman of Hancock county, for their progressive action in the employment of a trained county agent to take the lead in the development of the agricultural resources of the county which the Board of Supervisors now consider imperative as the vast virgin forests of long leaf pine have all been cut and they must now turn to agriculture more and more as a source of income.

Extension Agricultural Editor.

UNCLE SAMUEL HAS MONOPOLY ON CARRYING LETTERS

Should there be any in this immediate territory, or outside it, who believe they can "get around" paying three cents per ounce or less for carrying letters, on monthly statements, etc., which the postoffice department, authorized by the congress to do so, will charge for carrying letters beginning July 6 next, they might as well get it out of their minds. It just can not be done. The reason is that Uncle Sam has a monopoly of carrying letters or monthly statements and it is not his purpose to permit any competition in that particular line of business.

Second Assistant Postmaster General W. Irving Glover has heard of such a thing being attempted. He has lost no time in letting the country know how the postoffice department feels about it. He has placed the following before the postmasters of the country:

"Washington, D. C.
"The department is in receipt of numerous reports that on account of the increase in postage rates individuals and companies the planning to make deliveries under contract or on a piece work basis of monthly bills, statements, etc., for business concerns.

"As the private express statutes (sec. 1256-71)—postal laws and regulations, give to the federal government the monopoly of the business of carrying letters, the proposed method of handling these bills, etc., is in violation of the law.

"All postmasters and other employees of the department are directed to promptly report to this office any cases of this nature coming to their attention."

LEONHARD FREDERICK OF KILN GIVEN SEVEN YEARS PENITENTIARY

Alleged Leader of Hancock Group of Colored Youths Found Guilty of Burglary.

With the conviction Friday at Gulfport of Leonard Frederick, Jr., one of group of Hancock county negroes charged with burglary in connection with the burglarization early in April of the Dedaux store at DeLisle, the Harrison county circuit term under way for two weeks came to an end, and Judge Walter A. White adjourned the term after imposing a seven-year penitentiary sentence upon Frederick, the maximum under the statutes.

Frederick was declared to have been the ring leader of the group of colored youths charged with a series of burglaries. Ivey, Gillum, 16, another member of the group, was also convicted by the jury and drew a five year sentence, but the Judge later reduced this sentence to 1 year.

Sentences were deferred upon Tellis Saucier and Willie Jones, other members of the group who entered pleas of guilty, but who earlier in the term had received 18 months and 1 year sentences respectively upon another burglary charge.

The charge against Albert Gillam another member of the group charged with the burglaries was not pressed after all the other defendants had stated that he had nothing to do with any of them.

Leonard Frederick, Jr., is a member of a well-known and respected colored family of the Jordan river section of Hancock county and his fall is attributed to bad company. His father is well known at the Kiln, a man of business ability who had amassed considerable money from his connection with the piling and timber business in recent years.

Last Friday night the scout troop held a meeting at the City Hall. At this meeting we scouts were introduced to a very distinguished person, Captain Roy Bryant, of the First Division A. E. F.

Capt. Bryant was over seas years in France and was wounded in action. He was also member of Byrd's Arctic Expedition to the North Pole in 1926. Capt. Bryant answered many interesting questions of the scouts after his speech.

The Boy Scouts will enter a scout swimming meet Wednesday night at the Markham Hotel swimming pool. All scouts hope to do their best.

CURRENT COMMENT

A six year old Pittsburgh boy yells for a butcher knife when he awakes and finds a burglar near his crib, and a New Jersey man puts off his honeymoon in order to see that justice is done to a thief who picked over the things in his car; all of which suggests that criminals would have a hard time if there were more folks of firm and fearless purpose.

Six thousand bonus marchers sang "America" before the Capitol, when they heard of their temporary setback. The Germans marched to one of their victories of the 70's. to the notes of "A Mighty Fortress is Our God." Other instances of choral charges might be mentioned. Singing armies are hard to down. The bonus question is by no means disposed of finally.

Raffles, the gentleman burglar, may have stepped out of the world of fiction into the world of reality. A pickpocket who stole a Maryland woman's purse, mailed it to her with important papers that it contained; keeping only the few dollars that were with them.

The Soviet organization says that America is trying to stir up another war. Considering what we got out of the last one, the communists must think that Uncle Sam is a glutton for punishment.

"WEEK ENDS ONLY" SHOWS LIVELY NEW PROFESSION

Any young lady with beauty, brains, social experience, versatility at games and sports, and possessed of plenty of ambition but no money, would do well to investigate the new profession of being a "week-end girl." This vocation, which is that of a glorified hostess who manages week-end parties and keeps the guests busy and happy, is the one Joan Bennett selects in her latest Fox Films vehicle, "Week-ends Only."

With interesting settings and gorgeous gowns adding to the beauty of the picture, and the splendid work of Miss Bennett as the resourceful heroine finely supported by Ben Lyon, John Halliday, Halliwell Hobbes, Walter Byron, Allan Dinehart and other celebrities, "Week Ends Only" prove to be unusually entertaining. Both the plot and the treatment are modern in the highest degree, and afford considerable suspense and excitement for the spectators. Alan Crosland directed the production, which is made the best of the week's offerings.

The tired business man after a hot day's work, the young son and daughter, after a game of golf, the worn out child after a hard day of play, all turn gratefully to a cool shady porch for the rest and refreshment which the clink of ice in a frosted pitcher gives. If you are a modern housekeeper you'll have on hand the ingredients to make a cooling drink at a minutes notice.

OF SOCIAL INTEREST

(By Our Society Editor)

LOVELY PARTY LAST THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Mrs. Ralph Rugan and Mrs. J. J. Grevenberg were joint hostesses Thursday afternoon of last week at one of the loveliest afternoon bridge parties of the early summer season, the scene of which was at the Oriole Tea Room on the North Beach Boulevard.

Cut flowers in all the beauty of the season served as effective decorations and added to the already attractiveness of the tea room. Mrs. Rugan and Mrs. Grevenberg received their guests with that graciousness of manner and charm of personality that at once struck the keynote for each and every individual guest of a most delightful afternoon and as such the party proved.

Participating in the pleasures of this affair were Mrs. Leo E. Kenney, Mrs. John Bryan, Mrs. Hugh Burbank, Mrs. George R. Rea, Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Mrs. H. C. Glover, Mrs. Edw. C. Carrere, Mrs. E. G. Ferchaud, Mrs. Bonneze, Mrs. Leo W. Seal, Mrs. Henry Osoinach, Mrs. Edmund F. Fahey, Mrs. H. G. da Ponte, Mrs. E. P. Ivy, Mrs. Emile J. Gex, Mrs. Rene de Montluzin, Mrs. J. A. Gaudet, of New Orleans and summering at Pass Christian; Miss Bougere, guest of Mrs. Burbank; Miss Emma Edwards, Miss Beatrice Smith.

Mrs. de Montluzin captured first prize, lace bedspread; Mrs. L. E. Kenney second, lace table cloth; Mrs. H. W. Osoinach, third, pretty bridge set; Mrs. J. W. Bryan, lace table or dresser runner; Mrs. E. G. Ferchaud, bathroom celluloid dental set; cut prize, Miss Emma Edwards, relish dish.

MARSHMALLOW ROAST.

Miss Joy Chalona, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chalona, summering at Chalona Villa, Clermont Beach, entertained Saturday night at a marshmallow roast on the beach front, in compliment to her house guest, Miss Claire Fernan, of New Orleans. There were quite a number of guests and the pleasures of the evening extended into the night.

MRS. COBURN WESTON ENTERTAINS FRIENDS.

Mrs. Coburn Weston was hostess Wednesday afternoon at the Oriole to a two-table bridge party, which included a number of the young married set, and easily proved a most delightful affair.

The decoration was attractive with the use of a profusion of cut flowers from the radiant gardens of the early season.

Mrs. E. J. Arceneaux captured the high score distinction.

The "flying horses," Ferris wheel and other attractions parked on the beach way, in the business center, the past two or three weeks, pulled up stakes Wednesday and the caravan of trucks carrying the paraphernalia wended its way eastward over the bi-county bridge in quest of new and greener fields. The kids and many grown-ups enjoyed the pleasure offered by the amusement concern which gave pleasure and will no doubt be missed.

—Charles A. Breath, Sr., who is successfully operating the "Soiree Dansante" night club, has agreed to purchase the building, formerly the Bay-Waveland Yacht Clubhouse, South Beach Boulevard and Washington street, and will restore the building to its former appearance of beauty and general attractiveness. The "Soiree Dansante" is an acquisition to the social side of Bay St. Louis and visitors find it a most delightful and enjoyable place to visit every Saturday night. The place is strictly patronized by the best and is extremely popular.
